GEN. SCHOFIELD FOR PRESIDENT.

The Western Man With a Military Record, Hinted at by Crisp.

AN AVAILABLE CANDIDATE.

A Democrat Who Is Free From All Entanglement With Party Factions.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
HOUSTON, Tex., May 24.—The announcement sent out from here that Gen. John M. Schofield was the man whom ex-Speaker Crisp had in mind when he spoke of a "good Western man with a military record" as the candidate of the silver Democrats for President, was based on facts. For some time it has been known to silver men in the South that an effort would be made to launch a Presidential boom for Schofield.

partment of North Carolina on February 9, 1865, captured Wilmington on February 22, was engaged in the battle at Kingston, March 1, and joined Sherman's forces on March 2. He was present in the surrender of Johnston's army April 26, and was charged with the execution of the terms of the capitulation.

In June, 1865, he went to Europe on a special mission from the State Department in regard to the French intervention in Mexico, and he remained until May, 1866.

Afterward he was appointed the command of the Department of the Potomac, and headquarters at Richmond. He was in charge of the first military district, State of Virginia, from January, 1867, to May, 1868.

Gen. Schofield succeeded Edwin M. Stanton as secretary of war June 2, 1868, and remained in that position until the close of Johnson's administration and under Grant until March 12, 1869, when he was appointed Major-General in the United States Army and ordered to the Department of the Mississippi. He was in command of the Department of the Pacific from 1870 till 1876 and again in 1883 and 1885; superintendent of the Academy from 1876 till 1881; and in command of the Division of the Atlantic from 1883 till 1886, when he took charge of the Division of the Pacific.

He was a member of the board that adopted the greenback bill in 1870, went on a special mission to the Hawaiian Islands in 1875, and was president of the Board of Inquiry on the case of H. John Porter in 1878.

"MEN WERE DECEIVERS EVER."

John Schaeffer Had a Wife at Each End of Town.

HAS DESERTED THEM BOTH.

But Not Until the Two Mrs. Schaeffers Got Onto Their Polygamous Spouse.

John Schaeffer is what Mrs. Frank Leslie would call a gay deceiver. Twenty-four years ago he got married and one day last year he mysteriously disappeared, leaving his wife with six little children to care for.

He went out in the early evening saying he was going for a walk. He never came back. Mrs. Schaeffer visited the Morgue in search of her husband. Then she grieved and discouraged and settled down to a life of widowhood.

When John Schaeffer left home he strolled up to North St. Louis and there began courting Miss Louise Mayhew of 1624 North Ninth street. On July 1, 1886, he made a visit to Paris, France, where he met his second wife and they were married. There they settled down at the bride's home and Schaeffer supported his new wife by doing carpenter work. At this time Mrs. Schaeffer No. 1 was still his husband 44 years old. They lived happily until last Saturday, when by a coincidence he returned to Paris, France, to see his first wife. Mrs. Schaeffer learned of his return and, after a short interview with him, he was arrested.

"That's a proper return," he answered. "I have paid out the rest of estate, of which I own a great deal. Of course that's my construction of the law, you understand. I didn't see any language about it."

When John Schaeffer No. 2 was told his husband 44 years old. They lived happily until last Saturday, when by a coincidence he returned to Paris, France, to see his first wife. Mrs. Schaeffer learned of his return and, after a short interview with him, he was arrested.

"Now that's my private business, ain't it?" But I don't construe salary as being income. I am not a lawyer, but I am a good thing to have in our minds construe things differently, or we'll all be wanting each other's heads off with us."

"Now," went on the Colonel, "if you had a salary of $5,000 would you make a return on it?"

"Yes, if I could help it," admitted the reporter.

"Help it?" echoed the Colonel. "All you've got to do is make your own return."

"But suppose they come back at you?"

"Humph!" came the expressive grunt.

"I never shake hands with the devil myself," went on the Colonel. "And when the two Mrs. Schaeffers are now amalgamated with the Mayhew family and the Schaeffers are now amalgamated with the purpose of prosecuting Schaeffer for the

PRIZES ARE COMING FAST.

Forest Park Road Race Will Excel All Others.

OFFICERS FOR THE EVENT.

Twenty-Two Prizes Have Been Given Including the Post-Dispatch Diamond Medal for the Time Winner.

The Forest Park Road Race is booming and the indications are that the fifth annual event, which takes place Saturday, June 8, will be the most successful in point of number of entries and value of prizes of any in the history of St. Louis' classic cycling event.

The association held a meeting at the St. Louis Cycling Club Thursday evening and heard the reports of all the committees and elected the officers of the day.

The prize committee's report was particularly encouraging. It showed a value in excess of the large list last year, although there was not an instant at any time the committee stated that the number would be up to the standard before the entries closed. It includes the Post-Dispatch diamond medal, which will be given to the time winner. The medal is a fine affair and will be worthy of the event in which it is offered. It will consist of a circular pendant upon which will be engraved a diamond and a diamond in the center. This hangs from three gold bars, upon the top of which will be the winner's name and on the other two the words "Post-Dispatch" and "Time Prize."

The other prizes consist of the following: two silver water services, a silver loving-cup, a diamond ring, a gold watch, a gold brooch, a shotgun, three sets of tires and numerous others, swelling the list to twenty-two.

The officers of the day were chosen as follows:

Referee—Douglas W. Robert.
Judge—Robert H. W. M. Butler, W. F. Shapleigh, Jr.

Chief Scorer—Albert C. Davis.

Chief Scorekeeper—E. N. Sanders.

U. S. Commissioner—A. J. L. Morris.

Starters—W. M. Pease of Chicago.

Chief Checker—E. L. Morgan.

Handcappers—W. M. Rosborough.

Editor—John D. and W. P. Laing.

173 Olive street.

The race will be run on the 8th of June by electricity with apparatus from the Washington University, and a novelty will be introduced in the starting of the year in the use of the phonograph.

PASTIMES' POSITION.

Important Action to Be Taken at the Meeting Next Friday.

The following circular has been sent out to all the members of the Pastime Athletic Club, the Pastime Gymnasium Association and the Pastime Realty Co., and explains fully the position of the three organizations:

You are invited to attend a meeting to be held at the Pastime Club House, 91 North Vandeventer, on Friday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock p. m., to consider matters of general interest to the further continuance of the Pastime Athletic Club as an athletic organization.

The club still retains a very large paying membership, but a large amount of dues are unpaid, and a number of creditors are pressing for their demands.

It is apparent that the club must succumb to its debts, by reason of the annual expenses exceeding the receipts, unless all the members of the club will contribute to membership or obtain, or the club get rid of some of its burdens. We believe that the club is now run on an economical basis as far as possible, and the maintenance of the facilities offered.

Should the Pastime Athletic Club be allowed to fail, the club houses become devestated, the use of them is impossible, calamity, and the chances are that it would be many years before capitals could be raised to rebuild them, and the money where you must devise some means by which the club can be placed on a more substantial basis.

Various suggestions have been made by those who, while they may differ among themselves as to the advisability of adopting the propositions of others, are unanimous that the club should survive. The following propositions will be open for discussion:

A suggestion to exclude youths from the club house after 6 p. m. as a means of reducing expenses, and to establish a buffet, a suggestion to hold regular pool, bowling and billiard tournaments; suggestions to increase and decrease board rates; suggestions to increase and diminish the annual dues, etc. It is also assumed that many members have valuable theories as to the best way to run the club, and the best way to attain the greatest success, which they desire, and will be afforded ample opportunity on this occasion, to offer for adoption.

We believe that the club must succeed to run the club to suit the general public that there are 1,000 people in this city who will be glad to pay promptly $2 per year for its services, and we trust, the present paying members number less than 600, and this number is inadequate to sustain the club under its present conditions.

A proposal to the action of Acting President Will Brown will be tendered for acceptance. You may therefore select some one who is able to run the club with the best interests of the members in view, and start in full accord with the policy of management which the majority may then outline as the most advisable.

Gov. Matthews, the Indiana State executive, will apply for another injunction against the club day-to-day, we thought the club would be safe.

BRIDGE POOL MUST DISGORGE.

Shipper Will Sue for the Sums
Sacrificed by Discrimination.

NOT IN POSITION TO FIGHT.

The Combine Will Scarcely Dare Go Into Court, Fearing Attendant
Probable Disclosures.

There's a lot of trouble ahead for the St.
Louis Bridge-combine.

The scathing report of the Illinois Senate Investigating Committee, with recommendations that civil and criminal suits be brought to punish the pool, is only the entering wedge.

It has opened the gateway to almost endless litigation, which promises to take definite form in the courts within the next week. Coal men and shippers who have been discriminated against in the matter of rates by this crushing monopoly will sue to recover thousands of dollars due them in rebates.

A number of them have banded together and employed attorneys to fight their claim in court. They have been able to claim on the difference between the rates which were granted to the Consolidated Coal Co. and others, and a piffling with a large majority of the coal dealers were compelled to pay.

In several cases the rates granted to companies and individuals dealing on the inside were down as low as 12½% over the Merchants' or Eads bridge or the Wiggin's Ferry. This is a difference of 17½% per ton, and it is the same in every case. Shippers were forced to pay 30 cents. The coal men claim that they are all entitled by law to the lowest rate made, and consequently have a right to demand it. The last circular, the difference per ton charged them and the lowest rate made to any shipper over the bridge which carried the business for over half a century, was a large majority of the coal dealers were compelled to pay.

The Post-Dispatch has published two different circulars showing what these discriminated rates are, and the signature of Maj. C. Rainwater, President of the Merchants' Bridge, in the case of Clark vs. Burroughs Road, shows that the last circular granted to the party by the last circular was still in existence. The first circular was issued several years ago, and coal men claim they will be able to prove those rates were in effect until the last one was issued.

On this will be based their claims for the full amount of rates received during all the months that this iniquitous extortion was practiced. These claims will run up to the tens, and possibly the hundreds of thousands of dollars. An effort will at first be made to effect a settlement, but if the bridge combine does not show a disposition to treat fairly the rates will go into court.

The bridge ring is hardly in position now to do any vigorous fighting in the courts, as that would bring out the evidence which would greatly damage their interests when the State of Illinois, through Atto. Gen. Mulloney, swoops down upon them. The coal dealers will be compelled to compromise, and this game which has so long shamed down the country will be given a dose of its ill-gotten gains.

Secrets A. L. Berry of the Coal Dealers' Association told the Post-Dispatch yesterday what action had been taken. He admitted that several conferences had been held and that nothing had been done, but he was disposed to discuss the matter. The attorney of the association, Mr. Orr, is out of the city, and Mr. Berry did not know where he was. He said that the association, as an organization, could not take the matter up, but he understood to some of the members had decided to do something.

The Railroads and Warehouse Commission of Missouri has the demurrage charge matter under investigation and will render a decision in a few days. It is the opinion of the Post-Dispatch reporter what action had been taken. He admitted that several conferences had been held and that nothing had been done, but he was disposed to discuss the matter.

MARTI'S DEATH CONFIRMED. THE ROCK OF CHICKAMAUGA.

The Insurgents Were Hit Hard in the Fight in Which He Fell.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright 1885 by the Press Pub. Co.)

HAVANA, Cuba, May 24.—Jose Marti's nephew called on me last night, he is in great anxiety, and fears the report of his uncle's death is true. The son of the insurgent leader has had private advice from Santiago which tend to confirm the official dispatch. Gen. Campos has directed that the body of Marti be embalmed in order that it may be brought to Havana. The Post, No. 5, Department of Illinois, G. A. R., the Mayor of Chicago, will direct a monument to be erected by that organization in Rose Hill cemetery.

The monument in itself is something out of the usual order. It is formed of a series of granite blocks, feet square and 12 feet high. Just as it was taken from the quarry, says that on a polished shield on one of its sides is carved "George H. Thomas," Major General, U. S. Army, Post No. 5, Department of Illinois, G. A. R., and represents the fact that after whom this post was named. George H. Thomas, "The Rock of Chickamauga."

The previous definition of other General Assemblies were reprinted, and a committee was appointed for the individual and of the abolition of the liquor traffic. The "legislative panacea" was proposed, which will methods of regulation and education. Elder George Irwin of Allegheny, Secretary of the committee, also presented the work done by the Association, and the discussion grew so great that the second order of the day was pushed aside by general consent. A shower of resolutions fell upon the Assembly, and one from the subject of non-alcoholic communion wine to an injunction to members of the church to abstain from the granting of liquor licenses was adopted as the view of the Assembly, but on the former question a decided opposition was developed. After a long and spirited debate somewhat disorderly ensued, it was decided that the "unfermented fruit of the vine fulfills all the conditions of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper."

Pleas for prohibition of the liquor traffic were made, but no action in that direction was taken. The report of the committee on Temperance Institutes was made a special order for Saturday morning.

UNION SEMINARY BOYCOTT.

President Butler Does Not Think It Will Make the Slightest Difference.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Charles Butler, President of the Board of Union Theological Seminary, in the General Assembly, "I am unable to say what action the trustees of the seminary will take in reference to the recommendation of the assembly until after they have held a meeting. I do not believe, however, that any action will be taken, inasmuch as reality to a ban upon our students, will make the slightest difference to us, I fancy we shall go right on with our work, notwithstanding any action may have been had up to now."

Cuddington Meant No Disrespect.

C. H. Cuddington, one of the motormen suspended by the Union Depot Railroad Co. and whose suspension was made permanent after Mr. Cuddington had been interviewed by a representative of the Post-Dispatch, desires to disclaim any intention to reflect discredit upon his superior in his late employment in an attempt to force him to "make himself solid." He also desires to be known that he did not criticize their religion, but simply stated the facts in connection with his employment with Rev. Fr. Huber. Cuddington had a good record in this employment, and the only reason given him for his dismissal was that he had talked back to one of his superiors, a foreman.

BLUNDERS IN THE BOOK.

Revised Ordinances, Published at a Cost of $2,500, Contain Many Errors.

The Aesthete Takes the Stand and Is Cross-Examined.

LONDON, May 24.—There was the usual cross in the Old Bailey courtroom today when Sir Edward Clarke addressed the jury in behalf of his client, Oscar Wilde, who is still in prison. The man who is to be tried is those present was Lord Douglass of Hawkswell, the eldest son of the Marquis of Queensberry.

Sir Edward Clarke at the beginning of his speech complained of the treatment to which Wilde had been subjected and said the defendant would be excused for not putting the case in the witness box again broken and unfit for the ordeal as was now.

But the defense, afterwards, resolved to do so, and Wilde was willing to let him do as he seemed to be broken down.

Related to the questions put to him, Wilde related how he had been on terms of intimacy with the Marquis of Queensberry's family for years, and entirely denied the charge made against him.

Sir Frank Landau, the Solicitor General, at the conclusion of the address of Sir Edward Clarke, began a severe cross-examination of his client, which lasted over an hour. He accused the defendant of being a drunkard, and somewhat disorderly, and it was decided that the "unfermented fruit of the vine" fulfills all the conditions of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Pleas for prohibition of the liquor traffic were made, but no action in that direction was taken. The report of the committee on Temperance Institutes was made a special order for Saturday morning.

SCHRADER DROPPED HIS WAD

And He Says He Won It All by Following the Races.

John Schrader, butcher, 907 O'Fallon street, has been following the races for some time. His wife doesn't believe in such pastime, and has repeatedly told Schrader as much. So he determined to fool her by hoarding his earnings until they reached an amount sufficient to satisfy his wife. Of course, this has nothing to do with the loss of $1,000, which Schrader says he sustained by robbery last Wednesday night, but he mentioned these facts to a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday, when he was asked how he won the race.

Schrader says he won it all by following the races.

The police say Miller is in the habit of having his wife follow him and that this is not the first complaint made against him.

In May, Carl Klugman of 214 Bismarck street, ran away from his home and was now residing several days in his house. She is now in the house of the Good Shepherd.

Officers were sent out to arrest Miller.

They found him at his home and he is now half the pain at the rectal that his wife evinced.

Schrader's story is that when he felt in his trousers pocket Thursday morning for $40 of which he had won $20 on the races the afternoon previous, he failed to find the safe key. He then went to the safe and found the safe was open and all had been taken. He had my keys in my pants pocket when I was shot. The police say he was shot in the head, but he didn't betray himself. Somehow or other he didn't betray half the pain at the rectal that his wife evinced.

STRYCHNINE FOUND.

Mrs. Jennie Matthews' Death Leads to O. W. Winthrop's Arrest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 24.—O. W. Winthrop, assistant superintendent of Laurel Hill Cemetery, was arrested early this morning in connection with the mysterious death of Mrs. Jennie Matthews last Saturday. Mrs. Matthews died very suddenly while decorating the grave of her child. Her little daughter, by whom she was accompanied, said Winthrop gave her mother the time of her death. A chemical analysis of the woman's stomach, however, developed the fact that it contained strychnine. Evidence is said to have been found to show that the "natural decrease" of the area devoted to wheat throughout the entire wheat raising region is due both to low prices and the winter killing of the crop. There is a material increase in the corn area, and in the Southern States the disposition to reduce the cotton area and to substitute corn is growing.

FRAUDULENT CHECKS.

The Loss Therefrom Will Not Be borne by the Country Bankers.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 24.—The attempt which the Clearing-house Association made at a meeting held about a month ago to shift the responsibility from fraudulent checks from the banks on which the check is drawn to the bank first accepting it for collection has failed. The bankers of the country and the treasury bankers saw at once that they were sure to be the main sufferers by the adoption of such a rule. They at once brought pressure to bear upon their respective associations to defeat the proposed scheme, and at yesterday's meeting of the clearing-house it was finally decided to refer the matter back to the committee, where it is expected to be buried.

EYELESS FISH.

Strange Specimens of the Finny Tribe Which Swim Backward.

STARBUCK, N. Y., May 24.—Quarrymen, in removing a large layer of flagstone near here, have unearthed a cavern in which is a stream of running water. The water is of a greenish hue and contains speckled fish of about the same color. The fish have eyes and swim themselves with their tails, invariably swimming backwards, and they have a motion not unlike a fresh water crab as they always swim in a circle. Some of the fish have been sent to the Pennsylvania fish commission. The quarry is in a bed of limestone rock in an unrefugeed place.

C., in yesterday's Register. Arthur Latimer, who is then examiner, admitted the truth of the statement. Mrs. Hartley, who is then examiner, admitted the truth of the statement. The stockholders will use this in their fight against the 75 per cent assessment, ordered by the Comptroller.

CROP PROSPECTS IN FOREIGN FIELDS.

Very Backward Season Through-out Western Europe.

LACK OF RAIN IN THE NORTH.

Unfavorable Reports From France, Germany and Russian Grain Districts.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The crop conditions of Europe and changes in the area devoted to crops in this country are reviewed in a report prepared at the Agricultural Department. Spring plowing throughout this country is shown to be rather more forward than usual at the beginning of May. The work, however, is not evenly balanced, and there is a marked deficiency in the New England, Middle and Southern States. The pastures, though broken from the dry and cold weather and excessive rains, have not suffered much in the crop, and in the South the outlook is favorable. Grazing lands on the Pacific Coast, except in California, have been burned by a clement winter, and those in the Mountain States generally have not developed well. Meadows generally fall ten per cent below the normal, and the general "natural decrease" of the area devoted to wheat throughout the entire wheat raising region is due to both low prices and the winter killing of the crop. There is a material increase in the corn area, and in the Southern States the disposition to reduce the cotton area and to substitute corn is growing.

A general increase of fruit and vegetable raising for the markets is reported from the South, and especially in the states areas promised throughout Northern Europe, the Southern and Middle States, and all but the Western part of the West.

Land and labor for the development of corn in taking up the decreased wheat areas and flax shows a slight increase in Kentucky and some Western States. Strawberries are promising, and there is a good prospect of an unusual fruit season. Grasses are all backward and clover rather thin in the considerable areas. Potatoes are very high and close sets, potatoe being selling in the western counties at $5 a ton.

Sales of English wheat since harvest are estimated at 13,000,000 bushels, a falling off of over 7,000,000 since the corresponding period last year. Imports of corn during April were 1,000,000 bushels, and during April 13, aggregating 30,000,000 bushels, a decided decrease, but prices have not advanced.

In the spring sowing of wheat and oats has been completed, and both the wheat and sugar beet areas have been considerably reduced. The wheat crop will be heavily reduced.
